Snowfall Causes Accidents

Snow Heaviest In West

A band of snow moved across Nebraska Tuesday, causing hazardous driving conditions in most sectors.

The bulk of the fall hit the western and northern portions of the state, with 3 to 6 inches reported in some spots. Lincoln had recorded a one-inch fall at midnight Tuesdays.

However, the Weather Bureau forecast for Wednesday indicates the storm will have moved south and east and out

The Interstate was clear except for icy ramps at the interchanges.

Cities reporting snow Tuesday (inches):

Lincoln	1	Grand Island	1
Omaha	2	Imperial	3
Saline	2	Dixie	3
North Plate	4	Ainsworth	5
Norfolk	2	O'Neil	3
Burnell	1	Kearney	3
Nebraska City	5	McCook	3
Hastings	5	Beatrice	3

Lincoln had a high of 31 and a low of 24 Tuesday. Beatrice reported the state high at 32.

Clear to partly cloudy skies are expected Wednesday.

Roads Slippery

John McMeekin, state highway maintenance engineer, reported Tuesday that highways were generally snowpacked and slippery in all of Nebraska except the southeast corner, but no roads were reported closed.

Heavy snow was reported in the Nebraska City area Tuesday night and the Safety Patrol said highways there were dangerous.

Apparently hardest hit were highways west from Holdrege through McCook and Imperial where surfaces were "very slippery" due to ice and packed snow. McMeekin reported motorists were having "considerable" difficulty on hills in that area.

According to the McCook Police Department, roads in the area were "real bad" — caused by an estimated 6 inches of snow.

Grand Island and North Platte reported thin ice and from North Platte west, spotted and packed snow plagued motorists.

Other areas had slick roads because of temperature conditions.

U.S. Pledges Loan To Tito

YUGOSLAVIAN CURRENCY, TRADE REFORMS EYED

Washington (UPI) — The United States Tuesday pledged a $100 million loan to Yugoslavia for sweeping currency and trade reforms designed to swing the Communist country economically closer to the West.

The action came just 24 hours after Yugoslav President Tito charged in a speech at Belgrade that the Western nations were the main source of discord in the world.

Although Tito declared that Yugoslavia and Russia had identical views on important world issues, U.S. officials said his remarks did not appear to depart from his past policy of "full national independence" from the Soviet bloc.

The officials added, however, that they had not seen the full text of Tito's remarks.

In his speech, Tito brushed aside attacks on his country's policies made at last month's Moscow conference of party leaders from throughout the Communist sphere, and emphasized Belgrade-Moscow solidarity.

In addition to the U.S. loan, the international monetary fund is advancing up $75 million in the currencies of other nations to assist the Yugoslav economic reform. A group of European nations will offer another $100 million in credits.

As part of the agreement, Yugoslavia will liberalize her import controls and turn to tariff principles favored by the United States and other Western countries.

Integrate

A State Department announcement said the agreement "will serve to integrate Yugoslavia more closely with the (Western) international community."

Under the agreement, which has been in negotiation for nearly 9 months, Yugoslavia will adopt a single exchange rate of 750 dinars to the dollar.

Yugoslavia now has at least 11 separate exchange rates. The rates depend on which commodities are involved.

The Yugoslav tariff system is operated by assigning different exchange rates to different commodities. The rates also are adjusted to provide export incentives for certain goods.

Wiped Out

American officials said these import controls and export incentives will be, to a large extent, wiped out under the new system, and therefore Yugoslavia needs dollar aid to avoid severe balance of payments problems.

The State Department indicated it will require most of the U.S. $100 million to be spent in the United States, to avoid a drain on this country's gold reserves. Half of the $100 million is to come from the Export-Import Bank, and $25 million each from the Mutual Security Program and the Development Loan Fund.

Tot's Christmas Spoiled As Sheriff Takes Toys

By Gene Budig

"We're sorry!"

Wearing badges and painful expressions, the two men started to work.

Sternly, Seward County Sheriff Ray Welch and his deputy gathered up the recently-unwrapped toys.

From across the room, the wide-eyed Lincoln tot watched intently.

She couldn't understand why the pair of strangers were taking her new gifts from Santa Claus.

Likewise, the lawmen couldn't find the right words of explanation for the child.

"She couldn't understand," the sheriff said, shaking his head. "It was one job I would have rather not done."

His deputy nodded.

Sheriff Welch explained that the toys along with over $200 worth of goods were taken from two farm houses near Milford.

The child's father is one of 3 men facing burglary charges.

Welch had come to Lincoln Tuesday to claim the goods and return them to the rightful owners.

But, the little girl still doesn't understand—and Daddy isn't home to explain.

U.S. Space Program Will Be Speeded Up

... Kennedy Wants Stronger Diplomatic Service

By Douglas B. Cornell
Palm Beach, Fla. (P) — President-elect John F. Kennedy named his secretary of the Navy Tuesday night—Texan John B. Connally Jr.—and also apparently started his new administration toward a vigorous, accelerated space program.

In addition, the president-elect enlisted congressional help behind plans to force a stronger, more competent diplomatic service by appointing more career men and fewer rich men to be ambassadors.

Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson figured in one degree or another in all these events.

Kennedy's choice for Navy secretary is a Fort Worth, Tex., lawyer.

Served As Johnson Aide

Connally managed Johnson's successful Senate campaign in 1948 and his unsuccessful bid against Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination this year.

He served as an administrative assistant to Johnson when the latter was a House member and senator. He is a 43-year-old Navy veteran.

Connally is the first of the Army and Air Force secretaries is expected shortly.

Johnson himself announced Kennedy's intentions to strengthen the space program and diplomatic corps.

He was at a news conference climaxing two days of far-reaching, intertwined consultation at Kennedy's home.

News Conferences on TV

And in a completely unrelated development, press Secretary Pierre Salinger announced that some of Kennedy's news conferences as president definitely will go on live radio and television. Some of the televised sessions will be held in the early evening hours.

While President Eisenhower held one live news conference-evening conferences will be something new. Most Eisenhower conferences are held in the morning and are taped for delayed use on TV.

Johnson now is head of the Senate Space Committee — a position Kerr will take. Kennedy has asked Johnson to become chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council in their new administration.

The deliberations on the space program could be among the most important Kennedy has held since his election. He contended during the campaign that the Eisenhower administration had let behind Russia in this field and something had to be done about getting the country into first place.

Huge Demonstrations Rock Belgium

INDUSTRIAL SOUTH LIES PARALYZED

Brussels, Belgium (AP) — Massive demonstrations shook Belgium Tuesday night as Socialist strikers tried to topple the government. The industrial south lay paralyzed on the eighth day of the nation's general strike.

Twenty thousand workers shouted anti-government slogans at a rally in La Louviere, 20 miles south of Brussels. They howled down the name of Josef Ernest Cardinal Van Roey, Belgium's leading Roman Catholic prelate who has condemned the strike as unlawful.

In Roux there were cries of "To Brussels! to Brussels!" Demonstrators called for a march on the capital to oust Premier Gaston Eyskens and his coalition of Social Christians and Liberals.

Strong Words at Rallies

There were more fierce words at a dozen other rallies in industrial areas, where workers are bitter at Eyskens' austerity program to offset financial losses arising from the independence of the Congo, once a rich Belgian colony.

Workers contend proposed tax increases and cuts in welfare services will hit them hardest.

The situation was serious enough for King Baudouin to consider cutting short his honeymoon in Spain. A Belgian Air Force plane was dispatched to Seville, but palace sources said the young monarch had made no decision on returning home.

New Walkouts Called

Despite government claims that the strike was a failure, leaders of Socialist unions, allied with Belgium's largest opposition party, called for new walkouts in American-owned and other factories in the port city of Antwerp.

A strike alert was issued for 25,000 workers on Jan. 4, but Socialist sources said the walkouts may come sooner.

Brussels was calm but gloomy. Paratroopers and police strolled the streets.

Mountaineer Gets Past Net Around Cabin

Jackson, Ky. (AP) — A former mental patient escaped Tuesday night from the mountain log house where he had barricaded himself, his wife and 10 children after shooting and wounding two officers.

State police, who had surrounded the two-room cabin several hours earlier, fired a tear gas grenade and rushed it. Inside they found only the children, huddled together in fright.

He had slipped past the police cordon to get coal, the children told officers. Later Mrs. Johnson returned and said her husband was armed with a .22-caliber sawed-off rifle.

Few Clothes

She also said her husband was scantly dressed, and troopers hoped the bitter cold of the eastern mountains would drive him back to the cabin.

The house is on a remote dirt road, so isolated officers had to travel the last two miles on foot. The cordon of 14 state troopers and 6 deputies was reduced to 4 men, staked out about 200 yards from the house.

Johnson shut himself and his family up in midafternoon after shooting Breathitt County Deputy Sheriff Edgar Watkins in the chest with a .22-caliber rifle.

Said Fair

Watkins was listed in fair condition at a hospital.

After Watkins was shot, State Trooper Sylvester Walters went to arrest Johnson for the shooting and also was shot.

As Walters approached the house, one of Johnson's children, a girl about 14, came out and saw him. She ran back inside and told her father, who fired through a slit in the log walls.

Walters was loading a tear-gas gun when the bullet struck him in the shoulder. His injury was termed not serious.

Finder Keeps

Sgt. Robert Vann of 315 A, Husker, told police he lost his billfold Tuesday as he parked his car near a hospital and found it when he returned — minus $60 in cash.

KITCHEN SAFARI

Someone, a couple of years ago, told Mrs. Steven J. Krause of Seattle that philodendron is difficult to grow. She bought a sprig and planted it in a pot in her kitchen. It grew and grew. Here, young Roger Krause poses in the 60-foot-long jungle-like result. Mrs. Krause, her curiosity satisfied, tossed the whole thing out in a year-end cleanup.

France Touches Off Third A-Blast— Sharp Criticism Directed At Paris

... Drive Pressed To Become 4th Nuclear Power

Paris (AP) — France's third atomic test explosion Tuesday set off sharp criticism of the French drive to become a world nuclear power.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the early-morning blast in the Sahara was a blow to disarmament hopes and defied the wishes of the United Nations. Communist East Germany called the test "a crime against humanity."

Japan, the only nation ever hit by wartime atom bombing, prepared a formal protest as it did after the first test Feb. 13 and the second April 1.

Scientists said the device was smaller than the first two. French sources reported the latest test is designed to help build tactical nuclear bombs and the atomic trigger for the big hydrogen bomb. But officials indicated France still has not perfected an operational weapon.

No Allied Comment Yet

There was no immediate official comment from France's Allies. In the past there has been Western criticism of President de Gaulle's nuclear tests, which it is feared may lead to the rise of small nuclear powers and complicate already difficult relations between France and its neighbors.

Officials said the bomb was of several kilotons in power. A kiloton is equal to 1,000 tons of TNT. The first French bomb was of 70 kilotons and the second was considerably smaller. The first atomic bombs, made by the United States in World War II, were about 20 kilotons in power.

French sources said the steady move toward smaller atomic devices indicated a two-fold goal: Creation of small tactical nuclear weapons and construction of a triggering device for giant thermonuclear weapons.

Purpose of the committee, Faulkner said, is to explain to interested groups, such as the Citizens' Movement for Human Rights, the purpose of the urban renewal process, its techniques, and its need.

Faulkner said it is the commission's feeling that the urban renewal process "is too little understood by many Lincoln people and that as a result a number of serious misimpressions have gained currency."

Catholic Priest Dies In Omaha

Omaha (AP) — The Rev. William A. Giblin, 71, pastor of St. Agnes Catholic Church here, died at a hospital Monday after a long illness.

Father Giblin, a native of Roscommon, Ireland, was appointed assistant at Holy Family Church here in 1914. The same year he was named assistant at St. Mary's Church at Grand Island, where he was until 1916.

He spent the next two years as assistant at St. Patrick, O'Neill, and served as pastor of St. Peter at Newcastle from 1919 to 1954.

Archbishop Gerald T. Bergan will offer the funeral Mass at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

11 Hurt As Accidents Mount On Icy Streets

Eleven persons suffered injuries in 7 separate traffic accidents in the Lincoln area after snow started falling Tuesday afternoon.

Two of the injured were hurt seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Altogether, more than 20 accidents were reported, the majority in Lincoln.

Although slick streets and highways contributed to causing the mishaps, lawmen heavily emphasized that human carelessness and speed were involved in each accident.

Luckiest of the hospitalized was 33-year-old Delmar Umphenerouser of Phillips.

He was listed in good condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital suffering from an injured back and cut head.

The Phillips man was driving an empty livestock semi-trailer toward Lincoln when it ran off U.S. Hwy. 6 3 miles southwest of Ashland.

Safety Patrolman P. S. Edwards said "somebody slowed down real fast in front of Umphenerouser and he lost it (control of the truck)."

Owned by Gordon Otto of Phillips, the truck's tractor was a "near total loss," the trooper said. The trailer was relatively undamaged.

Injured In City

Mrs. Alice F. Wilson, 21, of 2238 So. 48th, was listed in good condition at Bryan, one block from where she was hurt.

She suffered face cuts when her car was in collision on 48th between Sumner and Franklin with a southbound auto driven by Ellis W. Larson, 39, of 4409 So. 49th, police said.

Larson suffered a cut left ear. He was treated at Bryan.

Three persons were slightly hurt in a two-car crash on West O when a car driven by William G. Worth, 22, of Omaha, skidded over the center divider, the safety patrol said.

The Creighton University student's eastbound car was in collision with a westbound one driven by A. L. Juan R. Marquez, 21, of 926 Garfield.

Marquez suffered a bruised lip, his 15-months-old daughter, Cecilia, bumped her head, and Worth was knocked unconscious.

Dog Lost

Worth's car came to rest with its rear end straddling a farmer's fence. His hunting dog "Jiggs," part Scotty and part chow, jumped and ran. It didn't come back.

However, headquarters of the British Overseas Airways in London disclosed it had received notice several weeks ago that the test area was restricted.

A doctor treated her. She was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Joan M. Uribe, 27, which was in collision with an auto driven by Cecil D. Scott, 58, of 1850 Harwood.

Police said Kay Trimble, 18, of 3485 M, suffered a neck whiplash injury. Her car was halted on O between 24th and 25th when struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Virginia A. Beckman, 19, of 3266 Dudley, police added.

Late Tuesday at 48th and Holdrege, two Lincoln Air Force Base men suffered face cuts when their English-made sports car with no top was in collision with a heavy Amer-

Red China Reports Crop Failures Affect Half Of All Cultivated Lands

By Phil Newsom
UPI Foreign News Analyst.

A Red Chinese report of crop failures affecting half of all the land cultivated on the China mainland forecast on Tuesday more suffering for the Chinese people.

Even worse, the report itself may be a hoax foisted upon the Chinese people by a regime stopping at nothing to achieve its "great leap forward." There is evidence that an internal grain shortage is being created to increase the amount available for export.

Supplementing previous reports that workers on China's thousands of communes had been placed on reduced rations because of disappointing grain production, Peiping Radio said "natural calamities" had hit 150 million of the 300 million acres under cultivation.

Millions Of Acres

Of these, it said, about 50 million acres suffered serious losses.

The Peiping report noted that agricultural production increased by 45% in 1958 and rose 8% last year "despite serious natural calamities."

"This year," the report said, "China was hit by the severest drought since the beginning of this century and by other serious natural calamities."

The report said it was a miracle that "in spite of the severe trials to which they were subjected, not one of the rural people's communes of the more than 24,000 in the country collapsed."

A college spokesman disclosed a few weeks ago that Eisenhower was considering renting the residence as a retirement office, but that no lease had been worked out.

Eisenhower stayed a few minutes at the home, then returned to the farm and took off in the helicopter for Washington. He was accompanied on the trip by his son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower.

Statue Missing

New York (UPI) — Police searched for a thief who stole a 20-inch statue of the Christ child from an outdoor Christmas display at St. Anthony of Padua Roman Catholic Church. It was worth an estimated $300.

It is an expression of Red China's determination to press ahead with the commune program which has been described as the greatest example of communist disregard for human life and values since Joseph Stalin's massacre of the peasants in the 1920's.

UKRAINIAN, AMERICANS INCORPORATE

The Ukrainian-American Association in Omaha filed non-profit articles of incorporation Tuesday in the Nebraska secretary of state's office.

Given among the purposes of the organization was to support the Ukrainian nation in its struggle for independence, and to inform the American public of the Ukrainian desire for freedom and cultural expansion.

The association also is to organize clubs and groups, help members attain American citizenship, and see to it that Ukrainians in this country retain their customs and traditions and thereby increase the wealth of Americans.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Nowakowski, acting coroner, said death was apparently due to a heart attack.

A hospital official reported she had suffered a fall.

More Christmas decorations were stolen early Tuesday after the Yule holiday was over, police reported.

First Plymouth Church at 20th and D reported 75 colored light bulbs were taken by thieves who tore the light strings from a tree, took them into the inner church yard and removed the bulbs.

Paul Bolton of 1920 E told police he lost 48 bullets to thieves who unscrewed them from disconnected cords.

And W. H. Bartlett of 1910 So. 52nd reported two homemade "candy canes" stolen. They were made from lengths of drain pipe painted red and white.

Police said the elderly man was found in his room with a severe cut on the upper left side of his head.

Officers said he appeared to have fallen against a sharp object, but they did not rule out the possibility Krause had been assaulted.

Albert G. Krause, 73, of 128 No. 19th, was listed in satisfactory condition late Tuesday at Lincoln General Hospital.

Council Asks Study Of Normal Blvd. Widening

... TRAFFIC DEPT. PROPOSES THIRD LANE

By Virgil Falloon
The Lincoln Police Department's traffic division Tuesday again recommended the widening of Normal Bou-blevard between 33rd and South to three lanes.

Mayor Pat Boyles with City Council approval directed Public Works Director D. L. Erickson to develop a preliminary cost study.

The recommendation, signed by Police Chief Joe Carroll and Lt. Don Smith, traffic control officer, proposed that the 28-foot wide segment of Normal be widened to 38 feet.

Also recommended was that the Normal and South intersection be redesigned with traffic-actuated signals to handle the traffic volume.

Widening of Normal to three lanes would permit a "reversible" center lane during peak traffic periods, Lt. Smith said.

33rd Opening Urged

The recommendation also suggested that 33rd be opened through Antelope Park to provide another north-south through street between 27th and 48th.

The 33rd project could be started at the same time that Normal is widened and would relieve traffic on South and on 48th, it continued.

Capitol Parkway now extends to 33rd and A and feeds into Normal. The city's street improvement plan calls for the future widening of Normal.

Opening of 33rd through Antelope Park would involve a bridge over Antelope Creek. It has been estimated at roughly $90,000.

Licenses Transferred

In other action, the council approved the transfer of an off-and-on-sale beer license at 136 No. 14th to Ruth Lindsay of 704 No. 26th.

The license at the location is presently held by Philip and George Dinges and is being acquired by Mrs. Lindsay.

Also approved was the transfer of a package liquor

Administration Of Government

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

President-elect John F. Kennedy has been told that the affairs of government have not been administered as they should have been throughout the past decade—all the Eisenhower years and the fading years of the Truman administration. Perhaps even all the Truman years would have been included but there appears to be no evidence that the study of the federal regulatory agencies went back beyond the last 10 years.

This should be disturbing news for the American people and from the tone of his remarks it would appear that Kennedy views the situation in the serious light he should.

It means that the task which faces the young President-elect simply has had another crisis added to it. The more the incoming administration sees of its job, the more formidable it seems to become. The study of the regulatory agencies was a product of James M. Landis, former Harvard Law School dean, who Kennedy appointed to make a survey of and report on the various federal agencies. The report is to serve as a guideline for Kennedy in his upcoming administration.

Principal agencies involved are the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Power, Communications and Interstate Commerce Commissions. These are the government boards which are charged with protection of the public rights in matters of great public concern and in areas in which the public is unable to protect itself. Nebraska is not without a great deal of interest in this subject.

This state has been directly involved in matters coming before at least three out of four of these agencies. It has been involved in a lesser degree before the fourth, the Federal Communications Commission, but probably not in as significant degree as it has in the other three. The indictment against all four is most disturbing.

It was reported that the positions within these agencies appear to have been sought as stepping stones to higher political rewards or to positions of importance within the industries subject to regulation. The state of Nebraska has been on the fringe of such an indictment, at least, with its own State Insurance Department and Railway Commission. Men have gone from both of these agencies into higher political life or into the industries which they supposedly regulated.

The major difference between Nebraska and the national scene is that the situation is more pronounced and deliberate in Washington. It is a national situation with which Congress and leading newspaper columnists have attempted to deal for many years but never solved. It is high time that the White House, charged officially with the administration of these agencies, makes an honest effort to administer them. What the loose operation of these agencies is costing the American people every year in unfair profits and special favors is unknown but the figure would undoubtedly run into millions if not billions.

Take, for instance, the Interstate Commerce Commission where transportation rates are established and other matters of business and industry settled. Lincoln is "endowed" with shipping rates that have made it completely impossible to establish certain industries here which might otherwise have made this their home. And as the situation now stands, the only way these rates could ever be improved is through what might loosely be called political manipulation in the nation's capital—not facts in support of our discriminatory situation.

You might also take the case of the Federal Power Commission. When you do keep in mind the multitude of applications which have been filed with it for increases in rates of wholesale natural gas sales by just one Nebraska supplier. These cases are piled up like cord wood so that temporary increases granted under bond are so numerous and continuous that they, in effect, amount to a permanent and completely regulated increase.

Nebraska has had its difficulties, too, with the Civil Aeronautics Board to the point where it has appeared to many that the Board has operated more as a front for the industry than as a representative of the public. In the case of major national and international air routes the agency is accused of operating too much under the influence of special interests. Congress has brought to light with its investigating committees some of the disgraceful things which have transpired within the Federal Communications Commission. These are not things of limited interest—they strike at the foundation of our economy and the general welfare of every individual citizen.

Whenever any part of government is operated to the advantage of a special few it is at the expense of the many. Service to special interests is a drain upon the economy of the nation just as is featherbedding, excessive wage rates and other evils of which we hear so much about. It is hoped that this report heralds a real return of the federal government to the people.

Benton May Get Nod As Ambassador

WASHINGTON—President-elect Kennedy has two men in mind to be ambassador to the Court of St. James's—both excellent choices. They are former Sen. Bill Benton of Connecticut, and publisher Barry Bingham of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bingham's father was FDR's first ambassador to London, and is much revered by the British people. It's doubtful, however, that Bingham could leave his publishing duties in Louisville at this time.

Senator Benton, former advertising partner of under Secretary of State Chester Bowles (Benton and Bowles), served as assistant secretary of state, later was elected to the Senate. He was the senator who dared move to censure the late Joe McCarthy. Though Benton won that battle, McCarthyite voters of Connecticut retaliated later against him at the polls. He was defeated. Benton is now publisher of the Encyclopedias Britannica.

Dean Rusk has spoken to President-elect Kennedy about shaking up the State Department. As the incoming secretary, he would like to streamline the administration and strengthen his own authority somewhat along the lines of the proposed defense department reorganization... Rusk also believes the secretary, not the president, should conduct diplomatic negotiations. This was

J. Edward Day had no idea he would be the next postmaster general until the day before the announcement. Six hours after he was notified, he was on his way to Palm Beach to accept the appointment... Day remarked to a friend that he knew little about the post office except for playing the kissing game of post office as a boy. At the University of Chicago he was once put on probation for participating in a student prank raid on a girls' dormitory... as attorney general, 35-year-old Bobby Kennedy won't be the youngest cabinet officer in history. Alexander Hamilton was named secretary of the treasury at the age of 32.

Time To Do Job

It is encouraging to see the unity of thought and action behind a legislative proposal to make the term of the governor of the state four rather than two years. Agreement with this position has been expressed by both Governor Dwight Burney and Governor-elect Frank Morrison and by leaders of both political parties. If there is one thing Nebraska must have to move forward it is confidence and a change such as this would be an example of such confidence.

Public life and public officials must be approached with a certain amount of hope and trust or whatever value there is to them will be destroyed. It is foolish to give a governor just two years of service so that judgment can be passed on him by the public at short intervals. Such a system not only protects the people, but it deprives them of effective and intelligent leadership. With a four year term you may not always get such effective and intelligent leadership but with a two year term you will never get it.

Two years is far too short a time to become familiar with the intricacies of government at any level. We should not be so fearful of the good intentions of our public officials that we make it impossible for them to perform at 100 per cent of their capacity. Generally speaking, by simply running for office they show enough sense of sacrifice and dedication to give us all the reassurance we need.

Those who don't are either incompetent or dishonest and they can do about as much damage in two years as they could in four. Besides, there are other checks and balances in government which protect the people from the unscrupulous public official. The two year term for governor belongs in the horse and buggy era, not the atomic age.

Failure Of Power Politics

The current difficulties in Laos provides a cynical commentary on power politics, and suggests an area where the United States could well become an exception—by reform.

There is a certain irresponsibility in granting independence to a country which lacks adequate preparation. It is something more than irresponsibility, then, to maneuver for control of the country by manipulating its government. This is the story of Laos and of many other backward countries.

It is worth noting that the people of Laos do not count in this current struggle between the West and the East. Most of them do not even know the difference between communism and western doctrine and care less. Most of them have received no attention and no benefits, but are victims of the old international assumption that whichever side can by one means or other get their men in key government positions that, then, is sufficient. It is not an American invention, but it has become an American practice. It is too much in evidence in Latin America.

Now that the chips are down and the world is in revolution some of these old and callous practices will have to end. The friendship of a great nation for a small one will have to reach the lesser people, themselves, and backward societies cannot be treated as pawns.

One can well ask the question of why after decades of expenditures and attention for the strategic advantage of Laos, do the Laotians, themselves, feel so wholly detached?

More Of The Do-It-Yourself

A Food For Peace Conference is a provocative phrase. It implies the conversion of a liability in the form of an oversupply into a positive asset in a geopolitical sense. It hints that the starving existence of a too efficient American farmer can be turned into an overtime, prosperous life while an expanded product strengthens the nation in its efforts to conduct backward countries into appreciation for and devotion to the

But there is something more in the conference and in the work of the council that makes the movement uniquely significant. It represents a new and needed agricultural outlook which is, of course, the prime essential to the return of agriculture as a going concern. It is essentially that federal farm programs cannot be designed to guarantee handsome profits to agriculture. They serve their full purpose in protecting agriculture from calamity and providing a temporary environment wherein farming can proceed to profitable levels. Improvement beyond the point of rescue is the function of agriculture itself. Whatever may be said of past programs they have succeeded to the point of staving off rural collapse, but they have also engendered the idea that they should do more; that they should provide a permanent guaranteed life.

These new conferences do not advocate a cut off of federal programs, but they seek by grass roots resourcefulness to carry agriculture above the point of total reliance by contributing to solutions above and beyond those any federal program should go. This is an important concept.

It is being explained to the president-elect these days in many quarters that he achieved no mandate at the polls Nov. 8 and therefore cannot and really should not keep his campaign promises. They are difficult to see how he can apply this reasoning to his own inconsistent assertions about the space issue throughout his campaign.

charged that the United States was lagging in space, not because it could not lead but because decisions had been made that it was not necessary to do so. He stressed that the Soviet Union had placed dogs named Strelka and Belka into orbit and recovered them. For himself, he said, he would have preferred that the United States

Washington—The question is not whether Robert Kennedy will make a good attorney general. Young as he is, his capacities have been amply demonstrated in one of the most difficult and demanding assignments of recent years when, as general counsel to the McClellan investigating committee, he began the disclosure of corrupt unionism.

Again, the department has been an example of legal wisdom, courage and integrity. One attorney general who set those standards was the late Harlan Fiske Stone, who later became chief justice.

There were four Republican senators on the McClellan committee and for much of the time there was a Republican counsel. They were all trying their best to catch Kennedy up. And their most determined efforts—in the inquiry into the Kohler strike—came to very little.

That, say Robert Kennedy's champions, should be a sufficient answer for all except those who are bound to find dirt whether it exists or not.

But it serves to illustrate how, in his new role in the cabinet, the young Kennedy must completely divorce himself from politics and, above all, from the politics of 1964. The slightest misstep, readily forgiven or even ignored from another appointee, will be immediately seized upon.

The report has been printed that local officials in Lake County, Indiana, adjoining Chicago, who were shown to have taken gifts from the pinball-slot machine ring, were not called before the McClellan committee. Later these same officials appeared with John F. Kennedy at a rally during the campaign, and Lake County, which is a steel center, went for the Democratic candidate by 54,000 votes.

This is a sample of what is likely to come. The McClellan committee investigators say that the Democratic bosses of Lake county, Metro Holovachka, was exposed and removed as distinct attorney after it was community. Repeated efforts by Sen. Kenneth Keating, then head of a House Judiciary Investigating Committee, to get Justice Clark to testify about happenings in the department failed.

The Department of Justice is probably more than any other cabinet post the focus of political pressures, since it is the seat of power from which important favors can be dispensed. A tax case can be suppressed. Parole can be used to free a prisoner with the right political connections. The selection of federal judges is a power for good or ill. The troubled question of civil rights and civil liberties stirs deep political repercussions.

Presidents in the past have been troubled by reports of scandal in the Justice Department. One of Harry Truman's attorney generals, Tom Clark, approved and removed as distinct attorney after it was Whose War?

Lincoln, Neb.

In questioning the memory of World War I Veteran, who were the aggressors in World Wars I and II? Wilson and Roosevelt? Has he ever thought of the Democratic administration inheriting the possibilities of war, where the stage was already set by the Republicans, such as it is now?

Who ended the Korean war? I can still see the headlines, "Russia Asks For Truce In Korea." Ike signed the truce papers. Any Democratic president could have done that. Was Truman supposed to give Stalin all of Korea, just because he wanted it? If Russia had started a hot war to gain West Germany, would Eisenhower just give it to them or would we fight?

Russia has gobbled up plenty in the last eight years and they are not about to stop now. I hope Mr. Kennedy appeases Nikita for the next four years, so that a Democrat cannot be blamed for World War III, which seems inevitable, but when?

No Republican president stopped the so-called Korean war with Communist China. It is still existing as a menace. Ike only delayed it by keeping 200,000 of our armed forces over there, besides the war fleet.

In addition to that fiasco, a Republican president has turned a cold war with Russia over to a Democrat president to settle with Communist Cuba now knocking at our door, challenging everything we've got. And more than that an old time Republican depression which Ike has been wrestling with for more than a year is now being turned over to a Democratic president to handle.

President-elect John F. Kennedy was guilty of nepotism when he selected his brother, Bob Kennedy, to serve as attorney general. This is not to endorse such a practice, generally, but to suggest the possibility that this could still be a fine appointment.

I am inclined to be more critical of President Eisenhower for selecting his brother, Milton, as the principal architect of the derelict and destructive and utterly impractical and non-workable Eisenhower-Benson farm program.

We will eagerly await the contemplated steps that Brother Robert will take against Republican James Hoffa and his kind, whom this administration has treated with such deference. And to what he will do to slow down the frightening menace of large, greedy and devouring trusts and monopolies.

N.Y. Fire Boss Blasts Conditions On Fated Ship

Wednesday, Dec. 28, 1960 The Lincoln Star 5

New York (UPI) — New York Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr., charged Tuesday that conditions aboard the super-carrier Constellation before it was swept by a fire that killed 49 workmen were so "perilous" that he would have ordered all work stopped had the Navy allowed him aboard.

Cavanagh, in 3 hours of bitter testimony before a 3-admiral inquiry board at Brooklyn Navy Yard, blasted general safety practices aboard the giant carrier and charged that a 500-gallon fuel tank permitted aboard was a "fully-loaded time bomb" needing only ignition."

"That could have happened before and in my mind it is extraordinary that it didn't happen before," said the outspoken city official. Asked by Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, senior officer on the board, whether he felt wooden planking used on scaffolding also contributed to the $75 million blaze 9 days ago, Cavanagh replied:

"Yes, that's my belief." Up until Cavanagh spoke, both civilian and military witnesses had testified that safety precautions aboard the ship were satisfactory or even above average. But the commissioner, presenting pre-fire shipboard photographs to back his points, reeled off a list of violations which he said represented "very, very bad" housekeeping.

"If this vessel had been under our jurisdiction we would have vacated this vessel as being immediately perilous," he said, adding that he meant all work would have been stopped and workmen removed until the violations were corrected.

Among the "dangerous" practices he cited were:

Storage of oil drums in the same area as inflammable materials; an open sawmill, plus cans of sawdust on the flight deck; "bad" rubbish conditions generally, with paper and trash littered throughout the ship.

He said also that storage of fire hoses was "completely disordered"; that stock bins of wiring and other materials were overloaded; that large amounts of materials were stored in cardboard containers, and that stocks of lumber were kept aboard that easily could have been kept on the dock until needed.

Cavanagh said he had heard the fire described in the press as a "one in a million chance" — an apparent reference to the theory that a leak in the fuel tank was caused by a freak accident involving a fork lift truck in the vicinity and that the fuel then was ignited by a spark from a welder's torch.

"I don't go along with that," he said. "I think this vessel is very fortunate that what happened here didn't happen before. All the elements were here. All that was needed was what happened or much, much less."

Topping the commissioner's long list of recommendations for the future was one for a "supreme authority" that could make inspections of ships under construction, formulate standard safety practices and levy "stiff penalties" for violations.

In that connection, Cavanagh appealed for better liaison between the military and local fire departments, which would be empowered to make recommendations that could only be set aside at the highest military planning levels. He cited among other things a need to standardize the threads in fire hose nozzles used by the Navy and city fire departments. He also said some effort should be made to acquaint city fire crews with the interiors of ships.

Cavanagh dwelled at length on the installation of the fuel tank aboard the Constellation.

At best, he said, use of the tank represented "a very, very poor practice and at worst, a very very dangerous practice." But in any case, he charged, the lack of protection for the tank aboard ship was part of generally sloppy housekeeping practices that had produced a number of small trash-pile type fires before the big one that cost lives and set back by about a year Constellation's departure for strategic Asian waters.

If Charley Uerling Wins, Nebraska Will Shed Its Do-Nothing Attitude

Hastings (P) — Charles E. (Charley) Uerling of Hastings did more to stir Nebraska from the comfort of its armchair during 1960 than any other individual citizen outside government.

Where other people either accepted the situation of a declining population, grumbled about it or packed their bags and left the state, Uerling planted his already firm roots a little deeper in Cornhusker State soil.

While others were prophets of gloom, Uerling was a bearer of good news, telling what could be done if Nebraskans would seize the opportunity at hand.

Action Motto

"Act now or forever hold your peace." That was his philosophy as he traveled the length and breadth of the state, intent on fulfilling a personal mission which would resurrect Nebraska industrially.

It was a project of several years standing, one on which he expended his private resources and time unstintingly to get his message to Nebraskans.

His message was simple and to the point — do something now to stem the tide which is sapping the state's economic strength, compounded by population losses, or become reconciled to the fact that Nebraska will be the Rip Van Winkle of the United States, asleep at the switch in getting new industry.

Hard Campaign

No political candidate stumped harder or talked louder during the last campaign than private citizen Uerling.

Uerling has laid the ground-

work for the campaign long before others took up the task. He drew up charts and compiled statistics to give graphic detail to Nebraska's economic fate of the last several decades, supplemented by other charts and data illustrating what other states had done to escape the same plight. He wrote countless letters and drove many miles gathering facts.

Enlisting the aid of the state's press, Uerling began hitting home in getting his message to the people. He gave speeches all over the state, answering any and all invitations to tell his story.

After stirring public opinion to the point that a plan to attract new industry finally took shape and got off the ground, Uerling was the ramrod who kept things moving, making certain the effort did not bog down in apathy and indifference.

The plan was the Industrial Development Amendment.

Uerling has laid the ground-

Iowa Traffic Toll Shocking, But Nebraska Record Good

Only 4 persons were killed in highway accidents over the Christmas weekend in Nebraska, but in Iowa safety officials are hoping to prevent a repetition during the New Year holiday period of the highway tragedies that claimed 14 lives.

Highway Patrol Chief David Herrick said Tuesday the 14 persons killed in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. last Friday and midnight Monday "paint one of the blackest pictures I can remember."

The State Safety Department had predicted that 8 persons would die on Iowa highways during the period. Twelve were killed during the Christmas weekend a year ago.

Full Force Planned

"We're going to have the full force out for a saturation drive, paying particular attention to night clubs and taverns," Herrick said concerning the New Year's weekend.

Sanders Speaks

In Nebraska Tuesday, Col. C. J. Sanders gave 4 main reasons why the highway death toll decreased in the state during the year.

Increased manpower on the Safety Patrol for stricter enforcement.

The governor's safety campaign, which included not only wide publicity but also the use on holiday weekends of state planes and helicopters, and new speed-detecting radar units.

The carrying by the news media of warnings to drivers, which has made an estimated 85 to 90% of them realize they have a responsibility to drive safely.

Bad weather early in the year, 2½ months, reduced fatalities because speeds were reduced, even if the total number of accidents were increased.

On manpower, the late Gov. Ralph Brooks gave the patrol permission to use its reserves, which added 9 men to road work. The 1959 Legislature provided for 25 more men, bringing the complement to 200, including the colonel.

On bad weather: fewer people venture out, and those that do drive slower—but this does not reduce the total number of accidents. It only reduces the fatalities, because it is the speed which is the killing element of accidents.

The bad conditions make driving more hazardous for those who do venture out.

'Tree Of Lights' Surpasses Goal

Funds raised in the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights campaign totaled $7416.14, according to a Salvation Army officer.

The goal for this year's campaign had been set at $6600.

Georgia Accident Kills Lincolnite

Montezuma, Ga. (P)—A Nebraska man was killed Monday night when he stepped into the path of an oncoming vehicle on Georgia 90 about a mile south of this west central Georgia city. The state patrol identified him as Arthur Jackson, 52, of 862 N. 21, Lincoln.

He had been employed by the Lincoln firm of Dobson and Robinson for 8 or 10 years.

Mr. Jackson had taken some time off for the holidays and left last weekend for Orlando, Fla., to visit a relative who was ill, according to a spokesman for the firm.

Arrangements are being made for burial in Montezuma.

Survivors include: wife, Rosie Lee; brothers, Lewis and Green McCant, both of Montezuma; sisters, Mrs. Wilma Shaw, of Montezuma, Mrs. Mary Floyd, of Atlanta, Ga.

Israel Alert

Tel Aviv, Israel (P) — Maj. Gen. Haim Laskow, retiring Army chief of staff, said the Sinai Peninsula has again become a military base for a sudden attack on Israel by the United Arab Republic. In an interview with the Army weekly, Bamachaneh, Laskow said the U.A.R.'s forces are superior in quantity, but Israeli forces are superior in technical know-how, leadership, preparedness and fighting spirit.

Drake Named Second Man In CD Setup

Beginning Jan. 1, George Drake, retired senior captain with the Lincoln Fire Dept., will step into a full-time post as deputy civil defense director for Lancaster County.

Drake's appointment to the $500 a month position was approved by the Civil Defense advisory board and forwarded to the County Board and City Council.

Now employed by the Hy-Gain Products Co., Drake, 44, of 2620 Lake, had retired from the fire dept. earlier this year.

County Commissioners were told by CD Director Richard Vestecka that Drake's salary will be paid from federal funds under a new law dealing with joint federal and local government activities in federal defense.

Vestecka, who will remain as director on a part-time basis after Jan. 1, said the new post will emphasize disaster services in the fields of fire fighting, rescue, radiology, welfare and public health.

Drake will succeed John E. Wenstrand, who filled the deputy's post on a non-pay volunteer basis.

County Board Sets Study Of Beer Policy

Lancaster County commissioners have agreed to make a new study of their 12-year old policy against granting new beer licenses in the county.

Commissioner-elect William Grossman joined in the decision after the County Board received a second request for a license at the Town and Country Club, Inc., on Cornhusker Hwy. The board rejected the club's first application on the basis of the established policy.

The owner of the Town and Country Restaurant, C. Marvin Roberts, told commissioners the license would help attract tourists to Lincoln.

According to Board Chairman Rollin Bailey, Roberts' request is "reasonable and should deserve consideration."

"Although the board has held the line for 12 years, Bailey said:

"...it's possible that either the courts or the State Liquor Commission could declare our policy unreasonable because of our population growth."

Commissioners Ralph Harlan and Kenneth Bourne agreed to go along with the study proposed by Bailey.

Arrangements are being made for burial in Montezuma.

Survivors include: wife, Rosie Lee; brothers, Lewis and Green McCant, both of Montezuma; sisters, Mrs. Wilma Shaw, of Montezuma, Mrs. Mary Floyd, of Atlanta, Ga.

Europeans Flee Moslems

Algiers, Algeria (UPI) — Terror-stricken European settlers fled from the fringes of the Moslem quarter in Oran Tuesday while police and troops held in check a Christmas-siege a son surge of religious enmity.

The death in a hospital this morning of a teen-age European youth who was hacked by Moslem axes brought to two the fatal toll of 24 hours of turbulence. The other victim, also a European, was stoned and killed by a Moslem mob.

In addition, 5 Europeans were in hospital with serious wounds, two Moslems were injured critically, by hatchet blows and one by a bullet. It was believed that other Moslems had been killed and their bodies hidden in the Casbah, according to the practice of Algeria's city-based Arabs.

The army gave emergency shelter to more than 1,000 Europeans who left their homes near the troubled areas. The Oran city council announced it is taking charge of accommodations and food supplies for fleeing settlers.

Milk and baby food were rushed to municipal cafeterias to feed infants among the displaced families.

Dear Abby~
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have had an argument going on about you for several years. I say you are a man and that picture and pen name you use is all a front. You always seem to take the man's part, and never give us women a break. Come clean. You are a man, aren't you?

JANET
DEAR JANET: Please read the letter below.

DEAR ABBY: Just what have you got against men? I'll bet some guy dumped you over years ago and you've hated men ever since. I'd like to see you side with a man once and admit that some of these problems can be the woman's fault. But of course you never will, because all you dames stick together.

BRUCE
DEAR BRUCE: Please read the letter above.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only a year and my husband can't keep his eyes off other women. He says he just "likes people"—but they are always female. I have bawled him out, acted hurt and even tried to make him jealous. Nothing works.

He gets plenty of affection at home and I am considered a good-looking woman myself, so what makes him act like this, and what can I do about it?

DISTURBED

DEAR DISTURBED: His male hormones make him act like this and there is nothing you can do about it.

Marriage

At an 11 o'clock morning service on Tuesday, Dec. 27, Miss Phyllis Ann Yoes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Yoes of Omaha, became the bride of John P. Glynn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Glynn. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rt. Rev. C. J. Keenan at St. Thomas Aquinas Chapel.

Miss Kathryn Glynn, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Lyman and Mrs. Dale F. Swanson, Omaha, wore sheaths of ivory velvetine and carried cascades of roses.

Serving as best man was Kenneth J. Freed, and the ushers were Thomas H. Neff and James L. Harpster, Fremont; Patrick A. Drake and William H. Hoepner.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white brocaded silk. Short, full sleeves and a bateau neckline accented the basque, and beneath a shirred midriff of satin, the slim lines of the skirt were emphasized by back fullness which extended into a train.

The couple will reside in Lincoln, where the bridegroom is attending the University of Nebraska College of Law. A member of Innocents Society, Phi Alpha Theta and Phi Delta Phi, he is past president of Beta Theta Pi. Mrs. Glynn also is a graduate of the university and past president of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Here is a point of play which many declarers would tend to miss. West leads two high hearts and continues with a third heart after East has played high-low.

East ruffs and returns a club. South goes up with the ace, both the bidding and the club return having indicated that West has the king.

Declarer has to make the rest of the tricks to make the contract. Obviously, this cannot be done unless South finds some means of avoiding a club loser.

One possibility that immediately suggests itself is to draw the adverse trumps and cash the A-K-Q of diamonds. If it turns out that the diamonds are divided 3-3, South's seven of dia-

I never met this girl but I hear she doesn't have a very good reputation. Wayne says to forget it, as he hardly knows her, but she has had a crush on him for years. Who should I believe? Ag Director Cites 1960 Achievements

...In Products Use Research

State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan said Tuesday a review of Nebraska's 1960 agricultural products utilization research program shows the accomplishment of several significant goals.

He said research initiated in 1960 has brought the state two new crops and opened avenues to gaining other benefits.

Farmers in south central Nebraska who grew castor beans are generally optimistic about the crop's future in the Nebraska economy, Finigan said.

He noted also that members of the Merrick County Agricultural and Industrial

Farm Activity Slows; Crop Prospects Up

Farm activity was slowed during last week's cold temperatures and livestock required closer attention, state-federal statisticians said Tuesday.

In its weekly crop report, the state-federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said fencing, repair work, and marketing crops and livestock were among the more general types of activity throughout the state.

The division said winter grain crops remain in good to excellent condition over most of the state.

The wheat crop was described as promising with an above average yield in prospect.

A light snow cover in some western and northern counties gave wheat a boost. The snow cover later melted and penetrated the surface soil.

Moisture Needed

The winter crops could use more surface moisture in most sections, especially in some central and southwestern counties, the division noted.

Much of the state remained open for grazing. Corn and milo stalk fields still had considerable roughage for livestock. There is not much fallen grain in the fields this year.

The division said cold weather was "a bit rough" on livestock, but feed supplies were ample and accessible in most areas.

Livestock production rates slackened somewhat from their high level of the previous week, but remained well above average.

The division said winter farrowings are higher than a year ago as more interest is shown in hog production.

Breakins Reported In Hordville Area

Hordville, Neb. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held Friday at the First Presbyterian Church here for Tracy S. McCracken, Wyoming publisher and Democratic national committeeman who died after a brief illness.

He will be buried in Cheyenne.

McCracken, 66, who had built an ailing weekly newspaper into a major publishing empire, was stricken Christmas Day.

His physicians said Tuesday an autopsy showed he had died of a ruptured main artery, the aorta.

At his death, McCracken published two daily newspapers in Cheyenne, one each in Laramie, Rock Springs, Rawlins and Worland, and operated radio stations in Rawlins, Rock Springs and Cheyenne and television stations in Cheyenne and Scottsbluff, Neb.

He reached one of the heights of a long career in politics last July when he announced at the party's national convention in Los Angeles that Wyoming's 15 delegate votes were cast for John F. Kennedy. These votes pushed Kennedy over the top for the presidential nomination.

McCracken is survived by his widow, Lillian, and two sons, Robert and William.

Omaha Route Of Interstate Under Attack

Omaha (UPI) — Ralph R. Bremer, legal counsel for the Taxpayers Plan group, stated that he will ask State Engineer John Hossack to release publicly the population figures and vehicle daily trip figures turned in by the city of Omaha to justify the downtown routing of the Interstate Highway.

Bremer said that there appears "to be more than meets the eye" when Omaha reports a larger figure on vehicle daily trips than Detroit. He said that he will ask Hossack to reveal who submitted the information for the city and the formula used.

Bremer said that he has been advised by Albert C. Spann, division engineer for the Federal Bureau of Roads that contracts for work on Interstate 80 from Frederick to Dewey on Route 3 cannot be awarded until all parcels affected are the property of the state or the state has legal access thereto.

He said this is in accordance with a regulation set forth recently by the Bureau in Washington, D.C.

Bremer added the lettings reported on Dec. 15 did not constitute an award of contracts and were misleading to the general public.

"If fraud by the city of Omaha or its agents is proven, Route 3 will never be built," Bremer said.

In Lincoln, Hossack said he doesn't know "what Bremer wants."

Routing of the highway in downtown Omaha was justified 5 years ago, he said. "I wouldn't know why anyone would want to contest it now," Hossack added.

Vehicle use and population trends were gathered by an independent firm in Connecticut, the engineer said.

"They are reflections of actual facts and trends," Hossack noted.

Inquest Planned In Fatal Shooting Of Omaha Man

Omaha (UPI) — Assistant County Atty. John E. Clark said Tuesday there will be an inquest into the fatal shooting of Policeman Leslie J. Wells.

Wells was fatally shot in his home early Saturday. His wife, Georgia, 33, told officers she was holding her husband's service revolver when it discharged accidentally.

Clark said no date has been set for the inquest, but that it probably will be held later this week.

Ex-Lincoln Student Hanging Victim

Press dispatches Tuesday confirmed that a former University of Nebraska and Union College student was one of two men hanged Sunday for their part in the Ethiopian uprising against Emperor Haile Selassie.

He was Germame Neway, 33, who attended Union College in 1947-48, the University of Nebraska in 1948-49, and also studied at the University of Wisconsin.

Hanged at the same time was Capt. Baye Talahoun. The executions took place in Addis Ababa.

Neway, governor of Jigjiga province, was a brother of Gen. Mengesta Neway, commander of the royal bodyguard, who was believed to have been one of the leaders in the revolt.

AIRLINE PASSENGER FIGURES RELEASED

Traffic figures for the 10 Nebraska cities served by Frontier Airlines which received use-it-or-lose-it notices from the Civil Aeronautics Board last week were reported Tuesday by the Nebraska Department of Aeronautics.

Only 6 Nebraska cities have succeeded in boarding the required average of 5 passengers per day since the inauguration of Frontier service in 1958—Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

All are on the central route except Hastings, which is on the southern route.

Frontier wishes to drop the northern route, and cut one of the Omaha-Denver round trips daily on the southern route to an Omaha-Kearney round trip. Hastings averaged 5.7 loadings per day, and Kearney 4.6.

The notices sent out by Whitney Gilliland, chairman of the CAB, said that unless at least 5 passengers daily are boarded for the 12 months following the initial 6 months of service, the board will institute a proceeding to determine whether service should be discontinued for lack of use.

The figures for the 10 cities, from October, 1958, through October, 1960, were as follows:

City	Days Served	Passengers Enplaned	Daily Average
Ainsworth	762	1,339	1.8
Chadron	762	2,938	3.9
Imperial	520	681	1.3

Most Cheers Garnered By Cyclones' Twirler

... MISSOURI TIGERS GET LOUDEST BOOS

By Don Bryant

Kansas City, Mo. — Despite two basketball games, the loudest cheers at the second night of the 15th annual Big 8 tournament were reserved for Miss Joyce Rice of Iowa State University—national baton twirling champion.

Miss Rice, an eye-catching coed without batons, was absolutely sensational with them.

She performed during the halftime of the Missouri-Iowa State game and wowed the crowd at Municipal Auditorium with a tremendous routine.

At times she juggled 2 batons, then 3 . . . tossing one, two or 3 high into the air at the same time—and catching them all flawlessly and with grace.

Switch

Loudest boos were presented to the Missouri Tigers, who were bearing the brunt of a situation created by football fans.

Still smarting from the Big 8 decision that cost them the forfeit—the Kansas fans booed long and loud when the Tigers appeared.

And they cheered every foul called against Sparky Stalcup's Columbia Cagers.

Footnotes

Bill Jennings (not the coach) of Lincoln officiated the Missouri-Iowa State game . . . Among the Lincoln cheering contingent were Mr. and Mrs. Bus Whitehead, NU track coach and Mrs. Frank Harvey, Harvey Wall (father of Husker Jan), Debs Murray and Dr. Tom Dvorak and his young sons . . . Other spectators of note were Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees, ex-Oklahoma Coach Bruce Drake and ex-Sooner star Gerald Tucker.

Hastings, Kearney Triumph

Lincoln Star Special Hastings — Two Nebraska entries in the Hastings 6-State Invitational basketball tournament won first round games Tuesday night.

Host team Hastings came from behind to nip Bethany of Lindsborg, Kan., 64-62, and Kearney got past tough St. Benedict's of Atchison, Kan., 76-71 in overtime.

Fred Johnson got hot for Hastings and led the Broncos with 26 points. Jim Peterson and Charles Bacon each gave 10-point support.

Hastings trailed 36-31 at halftime.

Kearney scored 13 points in overtime to defeat St. Benedict's. The score was 63-all at the end of regulation time.

In other games Tuesday, Central State of Edmonds, Okla., trounced usually tough Dakota Wesleyan, 76-58, and Gustavus Adolphus of St. Peter, Minn., battled off Morningside of Sioux City, Ia., to win 86-77.

Bush Leads Off

Nebraska's Jerry Bush led off and recalled his first session here: "We had been picked to finish last and I soon found out why. Missouri beat us by 18 and I thought we had dealt the game of basketball a serious blow."

"Then Colorado had us by 25 at halftime—I told my kids that was only 12 baskets—and then we trailed by 51. But my kids really hustled and we only lost by 42 points."

On the serious side, Bush told the fans: "Just because we had been picked last this year, doesn't mean we'll finish last. I've been very proud of my team this season."

"They have produced the greatest team effort since I've been at Lincoln. We may not win all of our games, but we will do our best in all of them."

Harp Blasts Gambling

KU's Harp issued a stinging blast against gambling after calling Bush's first-year coaching job "the best I've ever seen in the conference" and noting that KU's current record reflects a lack of "squad discipline."

"By your presence here," Harp said, "you have demonstrated an interest in collegiate athletics. But you also must accept a responsibility—to do something constructive for the great game of athletics."

"I am happy that so many people turn out for the tournament, of course, but I'm disturbed because the only reason some people in the Auditorium come is to bet on games."

"This certainly didn't make a very good impression on my son last night. The boys who play should be considered the finest, real idols to youngsters. This image can only be imprinted on youth if coaches, players and fans accept responsibility."

Other Observations

Other observations by coaches: Doyle Parrack of Oklahoma—"Our problems are at guard and lack of depth at center. The league is very well balanced."

Early Jayhawk Spree Decides

... BIG 8 UPSET HOPES DIE

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Kansas City, Mo.—Nebraska and Missouri flunked their initial tests at the 15th annual Big 8 basketball tournament here Tuesday night—a familiar experience for both clubs.

The Cornhuskers put up a futile show against potent Kansas and were humiliated 78-53 before 7,500 fans at Municipal Auditorium in the first game of the evening.

In the nightcap, the Tigers and the Iowa State Cyclones battled furiously before the Iowans pulled out a 72-68 victory.

With the first round now completed, the losers move into the afternoon bracket and the winners continue to work at night.

NU Vs. MU

Nebraska and Missouri will square off at 4 p.m. this afternoon in the chase for 5th place. At 2 p.m., Oklahoma State and Colorado losers Monday night—meet.

Kansas State and Oklahoma play at 7:30 in the winner's bracket, while Kansas and Iowa State are booked for 9:30.

Tuesday's opening contest saw both clubs reflect pre-season predictions.

Kansas, at times hot shooting and always in command of both boards, flashed championship form. Nebraska most of the way resembled cellar proportions.

1st Half Killer

The 1st half killed the Cornhuskers who were buried in the second.

Throughout the contest bad passes, poor rebounding, and other errors, plus arctic-like shooting cost Nebraska dearly.

Jerry Bush's Cornhuskers who have a 4-4 season record now move into the afternoon portion of the program, playing at 4 p.m. this afternoon.

2nd Half Killer

With Jerry Gardner, Bill Bridges and Wayne Hightower finding the range the Jayhawks sprinted to a 23-lead before NU could score again some 4:24 later.

Buuck Helps

Al Buuck helped cut the margin to 12 points, 31-19, at halftime with 3 buckets.

Kansas Wins

Kansas removed any hopes Nebraska had of a comeback by zooming to a 20-point lead in the first 5 minutes of the second half.

Midway through the final period the Jayhawks increased the margin to 27-points, 62-35, and KU coach Dick Harp mercifully cleared his bench.

Statistics more clearly tell

Iowa State 72, Missouri 68

Iowa State led throughout the first half and took a breather with a 42-38 advantage which held up until midway in the second half.

Joe Scott put the Tigers ahead 56-54. After a 64-64 tie with 4 minutes left, J. O. Ptacek gave the Cyclones a 66-64 lead and they were never headed.

Henry Whitney was the main cog in the Cyclone attack, getting 17 in the first half and adding 9 in the second to turn in the top point production (26) of the 4 first round games.

Key to the Iowa State victory was the defensive job done on Tiger star Chuck Henke in the second half.

The No. 2 scorer in the league had 18 at halftime—and didn't get another point.

Iowa State hit 41.1 from the field to Missouri's 33.8. Rebounds were about even, 58-55 in favor of the Cyclones.

Scott potted 20 for the Tigers, while Gary Wheeler hit 12 for the Cyclones.

Shaw Success Secret-Build Up Confidence

... DON'T RUN DOWN PLAYERS

Philadelphia (Pa.)—After some of the tumult and the shouting had died following the Philadelphia Eagles victory over Green Bay for the National Football League title, a man walked up to coach Buck Shaw and said:

"I want to thank you very much for giving Ed a chance to play."

The man was the father of Ed Khayat, a castoff from the Washington Redskins in whom Shaw instilled confidence and turned into a front-line defensive tackle.

Perhaps the incident points up one of the reasons Shaw was so successful in bringing the Eagles from a cellar dwelling club in 1958 to a world Champion this year.

He built team spirit by giving all a chance, not telling players how bad they were but rather how good they could be, by insisting he was going to have a winner even if he had to "keep one team going."

"I've got my health and I want to keep it," he says.

Shaw climaxed a remarkable career which began in 1922 when he took an assistant coaching job at Nevada after graduating from Notre Dame.

Notre Dame coach Knute Rockne got the job for him and Buck never intended to stay in football because it didn't offer much security.

As a matter of fact, he never had planned to enter the game except at the time he couldn't find anything better to do where he could make as much money.

As he looks back now he'll tell you he stuck around for 39 years because "I always managed to be just successful enough to stay in there."

And then it was too late to get out.

NFL Draft Bogs Down; Tulane Star No. 1 Pick

Philadelphia (AP) — Tommy Mason, a relatively unheralded Tulane halfback, was the No. 1 pick Tuesday as the National Football Leagueague opened its player draft showing every indication of its fight for top college players.

Mason was tapped by the fledgling Minnesota Vikings who will field their first team next year.

Vikings general manager Bert Rose indicated that Mason might become part of a deal with the New York Giants by which the Vikings hoped to obtain veteran quarterback George Shaw.

Rose also indicated a possible deal with the Los Angeles Rams, again for a quarterback.

After the selection of Mason, 21-year-old Southeastern Conference star who ranked 15th nationally both in rushing and pass receiving, the draft selection quickly bogged down into a tortuous 5-hour first round.

Most clubs—all equipped with telephones at their respective tables in the draft room—were on the long distance lines to check whether their potential picks would sign up or already had signed with the rival American Football League.

The St. Louis Cardinals, for instance, took 90 minutes before drafting All-America tackle Ken Rice of Auburn. Baltimore took more than 35 minutes to choose Tom Matte, Ohio State quarterback.

In pre-AFL days, the NFL clubs would zip through the first two or 3 rounds in less than half an hour. The Canadian leagues continue to bid actively for top American talent and they too were responsible in part for the slowdown.

MARCH 13TH SET FOR TITLE BOUT

New York (AP) — Humbert (Jack) Fugazy said Tuesday the 3rd heavyweight title fight between Champion Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson would be held at Miami Beach March 13 instead of March 20.

The executive director and promoter of Feature Sports, Inc., said the earlier date would mean a larger crowd because it would be closer to the end of the Hialeah racing meeting and that racing still would be going on at Gulfstream Park.

He also said he planned to fly to San Diego, Tuesday to talk about a title bout between Archie Moore, light heavyweight champion, and Erich Schoeppner of Germany.

Hastings Meet Tops College Holiday List . . . WESLEYAN, WAYNE, PERU ALSO HOSTS

By Larry Novicki

Holiday basketball tournaments dot the state college slate this week, with an 8-team show at Hastings taking top billing.

Four-team tourneys begin Thursday at Falls City (Peru 4-State Tournament), Wayne and Lincoln Pershing Auditorium (Wesleyan).

The Hastings meet began Tuesday night and continues through Friday.

Hastings and Kearney of Nebraska both took first round wins. Hastings topped Bethany of Lindsborg, Kan.

64-62, and Kearney got by St. Benedict's of Atchison, Kan., 76-71, in overtime.

Central State of Edmond, Okla., belted Dakota Wesleyan of Mitchell, S.D., 76-58, and Gustavus Adolphus of St. Peter, Minn., topped Morningside of Sioux City, Ia., 86-77.

Each team will play 3 games in the meet with winners meeting winners and losers meeting losers.

The Wesleyan meet opens Thursday with Omaha University facing tourney favorite Colorado College and Wesleyan meeting Culver-Stockton of Missouri.

Anderson College of Anderson, Ind., is rated as the team to beat in the Peru 4-State Tourney at Falls City. The high scoring Indians have averaged 88 points per game in winning 6 and losing 2.

Anderson opens the meet Thursday against defensive-minded Panhandle A&M of Goodwell, Okla.

Three conference champions are among the 4 teams taking part in the Wayne State Christmas Holiday tourney.

Matched in the opening game Thursday are St. Cloud State of Minnesota and Northern State of South Dakota in the first game and Adams

State of Colorado and Wayne State of Colorado and Wayne State of Nebraska in the second game.

St. Cloud shared the Northern State College Conference title last year and has won or shared it for the last 5 years. Northern topped the South Dakota Intercollegiate Conference last year for the 9th time since 1946.

Wayne took a share of the Nebraska College Conference championship with Nebraska Wesleyan last year. Adams State is on the upgrade this year after a weak season in 1959-60.

In the 4-team tourneys, winners of 1st-night games play on Friday for the title and losers play for 3rd place.

ROAD BUILDING WHITTON'S LONE PROFESSION

Jefferson City, Mo. (AP) — Whitton Dec. 19. He said Hodges reminded him of his long service to Missouri and his leadership in the American Association of Highway Officials.

"He told me it was my duty to take the job. I never was a candidate for it," Whitton said. He added that he had no direct contact with Kennedy.

Early Start

Whitton was born on a Jackson County, Mo., farm Aug. 7, 1898, and started to work for the Missouri Highway Department in April 1920, about a month before he received a civil engineering degree from the University of Missouri.

His first job was in a survey crew but he soon became a project engineer and then an assistant division engineer. In 1929 he moved here as assistant engineer in surveys and plans, then went to Springfield, Mo., 4 years later as division engineer. In 1936 he came back as the department's engineer in maintenance and held that post until he was made chief engineer in 1951.

Aside from his work for the state, he has been active in the First Baptist Church, the Boy Scouts and in a civic club. He enjoys hunting and fishing but hasn't been able to do much of either because of his work. He went duck hunting once this year.

Very Proud

Whitton is fiercely proud of and loyal to the State Highway Commission and its staff. He has been known to spend hours and days defending the work of the department and producing facts and figures to prove there has been no corruption in the building of Missouri's highways.

Twice this year he received national awards for leadership in public works programs.

As Missouri's chief engineer, Whitton makes $18,500 a year. The new job will pay $20,000. But it costs more to live in the nation's capital than it does in this city of 28,000, molded to fit the cost of living of relatively low-paid state workers.

A copy of the plat will be submitted upon request.

The sanitary sewer is now under construction. Pacific Drive from Monterey Drive south to a connection east of the west line of May Morley Addition, this being the first extension of the School District and the purchaser will obtain the benefits of this installation without cost.

The Board of Education hereby reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and also to waive any information in any proposal.

Bidders are requested to sign proposals with pen and ink, and, when the name of a company, by some officer who is authorized to do so.

An abstract of title continued to date and showing a marketable title will be furnished.

The property will be sold subject to the following conditions:

The purchaser, prior to further subdivisions, shall construct upon said property all buildings required to meet the conditions of the City of Lincoln with regard to the construction of a storm sewer, estimated to cost $6,500.00.

Pioneer Zone Shift Hearing Set Jan. 11

The City Planning Commission hearing on Pioneer Housing Corporation's request for "J" business zoning at 12th and H is set for Jan. 11.

Jack Stewart, attorney for the Pioneer group, said the zoning change is being requested so that a 100-unit apartment building for senior citizens can be erected compared with 60 units presently allowed.

Prompting the request also is a recent ordinance change on land-density requirements for apartment buildings in "J" business zoning (Downtown business district).

The S.O.S. Building Corporation's request lowering land area requirements to 220 square feet per living unit from 500 was recently granted by the City Council in a zoning code amendment for the "J" business district.

The Pioneer location is two blocks from the S.O.S. corporation building site at 13th and J.
